

Watch your house,
no matter where you are

fifthplay

home monitor

Just imagine that you could keep an eye on your house anytime, anywhere...

Both indoors and outdoors, from your computer at work or on a suitable mobile telephone. Follow in real time what is happening in your home, store or workshop at any time, from any location... And you can do so anywhere and at anytime. This is now possible with fifthplay™. And just imagine receiving a text message or an e-mail as soon as motion is detected in your house or business. That's possible with fifthplay.

The future starts now.

The home monitor system is the product of years of development at fifthplay; an international, innovative and high-tech company established in Flanders, Belgium. Based on open Internet standards, the home monitor system is a real fifthplay innovation. However, technology is not an end in itself for fifthplay but a means to improve your standard of living. For greater comfort, security and peace-of-mind.

Our users are very excited.

I own a store and I can see everything that is taking place inside, live, wherever I am.

Ronny, age 50

Our baby spends the day at my mother's. I can always check how both are doing!

Sophie, age 25

I can keep an eye on our second home... from my armchair at home in the city.

Bob, age 60

The future starts now... for your peace of mind!

Look into your house, wherever you are, no matter when.

With the fifthplay home monitor you will see what a camera sees in your house. Live and in colour. Whenever it suits you. You can be at work or sipping a drink at a terrace cafe... and still see what is happening at home. What the kids are up to. How grandma, grandpa or the babysitter is managing, you name it. If you install several cameras you will be able to see even more.

Or monitor your business, wherever you are, no matter when.

During opening hours you can check whether everything is going well. And if your business is closed, you can check whether everything is secure. Even in your storage rooms, the entrances, etc.

You will be alerted if something moves!

As soon as the camera detects motion, you will receive a text message or an e-mail, allowing you to immediately check who is inside. But you can also look at it later. When something moves, photos of the video images are saved, for you to view later.

How can you watch your home or your business?

On any device connected to the Internet. For example... on your mobile phone, if it is a smartphone with a broadband Internet connection.* On your computer at work or elsewhere and soon also on your digital TV. In short, on anything that connects to the Internet, on our very secure website. Only you can view your home or business using your personal login and password.

"I can always see my daughter, whenever I want to, as well as the babysitter or my mother when they are watching her."

Anne, age 30.

You can order these products immediately:

Several cameras? Special cameras? Anything is possible.

You can install up to nine cameras, allowing you to view several rooms, for example to follow the kids throughout the house. You can watch the front door, the corridor or the entrance hall, etc. You can also opt for special cameras, for outdoors, or cameras you can control remotely, infrared cameras for when it's dark, the possibilities are endless.

And a large panic button for kids and senior citizens.

If children or the elderly are home alone, and should something serious happen, they can press the panic button, a large red button, which you can place wherever you wish. Those who are at home can then immediately alert you if something happens and you will receive a text message or e-mail, enabling you to immediately look, call, take action, etc.

* PDA/Smartphone/TV options available as of 1/6/2008

The future can be even more comfortable.

fifthplay is developing a lot of other applications on the basis of this technology. This is how people react when we ask their opinion about the solutions on which fifthplay is currently working.

Should there be sudden heat or smoke in the house, I would be immediately informed by text message or e-mail, right? Also when a tap is leaking, or if water is seeping in the basement? Hopefully that will be possible soon.

Jeff, age 68

If I'm at work, will I be able to open a door or gate? That is handy when someone has forgotten their key. My children and my mother would also appreciate it. And so would the cleaning lady.

Nathalie, age 42.

Suppose that I'm 20 km away from home and I suddenly remember that I forgot to turn off my iron! Can I do so from 20 km away? This will really be possible later, right? WOW!

Monique, age 29

So when coming home after a holiday or a long weekend... then, will I be able to turn on the heating from a distance so that it is nice and cosy when I get home?

William, age 35
